[No. 33-MA(2)/56.]

New Delhi, the 23rd April 1956

S.R.O. 986.—The following draft of certain rules which it is proposed to make in exercise of the powers conferred by section 145A of the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1923 (XXI of 1923) is published as required by sub-section (1) of the said section for the information of all persons likely to be affected thereby, and notice is hereby given that the draft will be taken into consideration on or after the 23rd May 1956.

Any objection or suggestion which may be received from any person with respect to the said draft before the date specified above will be considered by the Central Government.

DRAFT RULES

1. (1) These rules shall be called the Indian Merchant Shipping (Closing of Openings in Hulls and in Watertight Bulkheads) Rules, 1956.

(2) The rules shall apply to every ship for which a certificate of survey is required under Part III of the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1923 (XXI of 1923).

2. (1) In these rules, unless the context otherwise requires—

- (a) "breadth of the ship" means the greatest moulded breadth at or below the ship's deepest subdivision load water line;
- (b) "bulkhead deck" means the uppermost deck upto which transverse watertight bulkheads are carried;
- (c) "margin line" means a line drawn at least three inches below the upper surface of the bulkhead deck at the side of a ship, and assumed for the purpose of determining the floodable length of the ship.

(2) For the purposes of these rules a ship shall be deemed to proceed to sea when she leaves a mooring or anchorage at a port for that purpose and to be at sea until she has been secured at a mooring or anchorage at a port.

3. (1) In every ship to which these Rules apply the contrivances mentioned in sub-rule (2) shall immediately before the ship proceeds to sea, be securely closed, and shall be kept so closed while the ship is at sea.

(2) The contrivances referred to in sub-rule (1) are as follows:—

- (a) hinged watertight doors below the margin line which are fitted in bulkheads required by the Indian Merchant Shipping (Construction and Survey of Passenger Steamers) Rules, 1956 to be watertight and which divide cargo between deck spaces;
- (b) all sidescuttles which can be opened and which are situated in any between decks and below the margin line, if any of such sidescuttles have their sills below a line drawn parallel to the bulkhead deck at the side of the ship and having its lowest point $4\frac{1}{2}$ ft. in addition to $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. of the breadth of the ship above the water when the ship is first afloat in sea water after proceeding to sea. Provided that in fair weather in tropical zones within the meaning of the Indian Merchant Shipping (Load Line) Rules, 1934 (including seasonal tropical zones in the appropriate seasons) this clause shall have effect as if "3 $\frac{1}{2}$ ft." were substituted for "4 $\frac{1}{2}$ ft.;"
- (c) sidescuttles below the margin line which will not be accessible while the ship is at sea, together with their deadlights;
- (d) sidescuttles below the margin line situated in spaces appropriated alternatively for the carriage of cargo or passengers, together with their deadlights, when the space in which they are situated is used for the carriage of cargo;
- (e) gangway, cargo and coaling ports below the margin line.

(3) For the purposes of this Rule, a contrivance shall be deemed to be below the margin line if the sill of the contrivance is below that line and a sidescuttle shall not be deemed to be closed unless it is locked.

4. In every ship to which these rules apply, every watertight door, not being a door referred to in clause (a) of sub-rule (2) of rule 2 of these rules, shall be kept closed while the ship is at sea except when it is required to be open for the working of the ship. When open, every such door shall be kept free from obstructions which might prevent its rapid closure.

5. In every ship to which these rules apply every portable plate closing an opening in any portion of the internal structure of the ship, which is required by the Indian Merchant Shipping (Construction and Survey of Passengers Steamers) Rules, 1956 to be watertight, being an opening which is wholly or partly below the margin line, shall be in place when the ship proceeds to sea and shall be kept in place while the ship is at sea, except in case of urgent necessity. In replacing any such plate all reasonable precautions shall be taken to ensure that the joints are watertight.

6. In every ship to which these rules apply the cover and valve of any ash-shoot, rubbish-shoot or other similar contrivance having its inboard opening below the margin line shall be kept securely closed when the device is not in use.

7. (1) In every ship to which these rules apply all watertight doors and other contrivances referred to in rules, 2, 3 and 5 of these rules shall be opened and closed for purposes of drill—

- (a) at intervals of not more than seven days; and
- (b) immediately before the ship proceeds to sea, if the ship is intended to remain at sea for a period of more than seven days.

Provided that nothing in this paragraph shall be taken to authorise the opening, while the ship is at sea, of any watertight door or other contrivance which is required by rule 2 of these rules to be kept closed.

(2) In every ship to which these rules apply, all watertight doors fitted in transverse bulkheads required by the Indian Merchant Shipping (Construction and Survey of Passenger Steamers) Rules, 1956 to be watertight (not being doors required by these rules to be kept closed when the ship is at sea), shall be opened and closed for the purposes of drill once in every period of twenty-four hours when the ship is at sea, if such doors are both—

- (a) hinged, or operated by power; and
- (b) required to be open for the working of the ship at any time while the ship is at sea:

Provided that nothing in this paragraph shall require any bunker door to be opened and closed during any voyage before it has been opened for the working of the ship during that voyage.

8. In every ship to which these rules apply—

- (a) all watertight doors;
- (b) all mechanisms, indicators and warning devices connected with such doors;
- (c) all valves the closing of which is necessary to make watertight any compartment below the margin line; and
- (d) all valves, the operation of which is necessary for the efficient operation of damage-control cross-connections

shall be inspected at intervals of not more than seven days by a person appointed for that purpose by the Master of the ship.

9. In every ship to which these rules apply, entries shall be made in the official log-book recording the following:—

- (a) the times of the last closing, before the ship proceeds to sea, of the watertight doors and other contrivances referred to in rule 2 of these rules and of the next subsequent opening of such doors and contrivances;
- (b) the times of the closing and opening while the ship is at sea, of any watertight door which is fitted between bunkers in the between decks below the bulkhead deck;
- (c) whether the portable plates referred to in rule 4 of these rules are in place when the ship proceeds to sea, and the times, if any, of the removal and replacement of such plates when the ship is at sea; and
- (d) the occasions on which drills are practised and inspections made in compliance with the foregoing provisions of these rules, and whether the contrivances to which such drills and inspections relate are in good working order.

10. Whoever does any act, in contravention of any of the provisions of these rules, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to two hundred rupees, and when the breach is a continuing breach with a further fine which may extend to twenty rupees for every day after the first during which the breach continues.

[No. 48-MA(1)/53.]

S.R.O. 987.—The following draft of certain rules which the Central Government propose to make in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (1) of section 216A of the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1923 (XXI of 1923), read with clauses (i), (k) and (m) of sub-section (1A) of that section, is published as required by sub-section (1) of the said section for the information of all persons likely to be affected thereby, and notice is hereby given that the said draft will be taken into consideration on or after the 23rd May 1956.

Any objections or suggestions which may be received from any person with respect to the said draft before the date specified will be considered by the Central Government.

Draft Rules

1. (1) These rules shall be called the Indian Merchant Shipping (Musters) Rules, 1956,
- (2) In these rules, unless the context otherwise requires, the expression 'muster' includes a boat-drill and a fire-drill.

(3) These rules apply to—

(a) all Indian ships;

(b) all other ships while they are within any port in India:

Provided that these rules shall not apply to a ship by reason of her being within a port in India if she would not have been in any such port but for stress of weather or any other circumstance that neither the master nor the owner nor the charterer (if any) of the ship could have prevented or forestalled.

2. Classification of Ships.—For the purposes of these rules, the ships to which these rules apply shall be arranged in the same classes in which ships are arranged for the purposes of the Indian Merchant Shipping (Life Saving Appliances) Rules, 1956, and any reference in these rules to ship of any class shall be construed accordingly.

3. Muster List.—(1) The master of every ship of Classes I, II, III, IV, V, VI, VIII and IX shall prepare a muster list showing in respect of each member of the crew the special duties which are allotted to him and the station to which he shall go in the event of an emergency, including duties and stations applicable for extinguishing fire.

(2) The muster list shall specify definite signals for calling all the crew to their boats and fire stations in an emergency, and for indicating when the ship is to be abandoned. . .

(3) The muster list shall assign duties to the different members of the crew in connection with—

- (a) the closing of the watertight doors, valves and closing mechanism of scuppers, ash shoots, and other parts;
- (b) the equipment of the boats and buoyant apparatus generally;
- (c) the launching of the boats attached to davits;
- (d) the general preparation of any other boats and buoyant apparatus;
- (e) The muster of the passengers (if any);
- (f) the extinction of fire.

(4) The duty of seeing that the boats and buoyant apparatus and other life-saving apparatus are at all times ready for use shall be assigned by the muster list to one or more officers.

(5) The muster list shall assign to the members of the stewards department their several duties in relation to the passengers at a time of emergency. These duties shall include—

- (a) warning the passengers;
- (b) seeing that they are suitably clad and have put on their lifejackets in a proper manner;
- (c) assembling the passengers at muster stations;
- (d) keeping order in the passages and on the stairways, and, generally controlling the movements of the passengers;
- (e) seeing that a supply of blankets is taken to the lifeboats.

(6) The muster list shall be prepared after the Articles of Agreement have been opened with the crew. The list shall be drawn up before the ship proceeds to sea, and shall be dated and signed by the Master.

(7) If, after the muster list has been prepared, any change takes place in the crew which necessitates an alteration in the muster list, the master shall either revise the list or prepare a new list.

(8) Copies of the muster list shall be posted in several parts of the ship, and in particular in the crew's quarters, before the ship proceeds to sea and shall be kept so posted while the ship is at sea.

4. Emergency Signal for Passengers.—(1) Assembly stations for all passengers shall be appointed for the event of an emergency and the position of those stations and the meaning of all signals affecting passengers shall be clearly stated in Hindi, English and such other languages as are appropriate, on cards pasted in their cabins and in conspicuous places in other passenger quarters. Particular attention shall be paid to the pasting of these cards in spaces used by unberthed passengers.

(2) The emergency signal for summoning passengers to the assembly stations shall be a succession of more than six short blasts followed by one long blast on the whistle or siren.

5. Wearing of Lifejacket.—Printed illustrations showing the correct method of wearing a lifejacket shall be pasted on cards and exhibited in conspicuous places in each passenger accommodation.

The illustrations shall also have detailed explanations in Hindi, English and such other languages as are appropriate, showing step by step the process of putting on a lifejacket.

6. Training.—(1) In ships of Classes I, II, III, IV, and V musters of crew shall be held before the ship leaves her final port of departure in India and, in addition, in ships of classes I and III musters of the passengers shall be held within twenty-four hours after leaving such port.

(2) In ships of Class VI, a muster of the crew shall take place at intervals of not more than seven days, when practicable to ensure that the crew understand and are drilled in the duties assigned to them for the event of an emergency.

(3) In ships of Classes VIII and IX musters of the crew shall take place at intervals of not more than fourteen days to ensure that the crew understand and are drilled in the duties assigned to them for the event of an emergency.

(4) In ships of Classes VII, X, XI and XII the master shall take steps to ensure that the crew understand the uses of life-saving equipment and fire appliances carried on board and know where they are kept.

(5) Different groups of boats shall be used in turn at successive boat drills. The drills and inspection shall be so arranged that the crew thoroughly understand and are practised in the duties they have to perform, and that all life-saving appliances and fire appliances with the gear appertaining to them are always ready for immediate use.

7. Penalty.—Whoever does any act in contravention of the provisions of these rules shall be punishable with fine which may extend to two hundred rupees and, when the breach is a continuing breach, with a further fine which may extend to twenty rupees for every day after the first during which the breach continues.

Any objection or suggestion which may be received from any person with respect to the said draft before the date specified will be considered by the Central Government.

Draft amendment

In the said Rules—

1. For sub-rule (4) of rule 61, the following sub-rule shall be substituted, namely:—

“(4) An applicant shall possess experience appropriate to the category of the licence or extension of the licence required, as laid down in Section ‘F’ of Schedule III. This experience shall include experience of having worked at least for three months on the type of aircraft, or engine or accessory for which he has applied for the grant or extension of his licence during the period of twelve months preceding the date of his application. The applicant shall prove to the satisfaction of the Director General that he has acquired the prescribed experience.”

2. For sub-rule (7) of rule 61, the following sub-rule shall be substituted, namely:—

“(7) Licences shall remain valid, unless cancelled or suspended, for the period specified therein, subject to a maximum period of twelve months in each case, and may thereafter be renewed by the Central Government for a similar period on application, provided that during the twenty four months preceding the date of application for the renewal of the licence, the holder has been engaged for periods totalling at least six months on aeronautical engineering duties, either in practical maintenance or repair or overhaul or in a supervisory capacity or as a member of the operating crew of aircraft, and has also held a licence during the period; failing which the applicant shall be required to undergo some or all of the tests laid down in sub-rule (5) above.”

3. For the words ‘recent experience’ or ‘recent general practical experience’ or ‘recent practical experience’ wherever they occur in Section F of Schedule III, the word ‘experience’ shall be substituted.

4. The following note shall be added at the end of Section F of Schedule III:—

“NOTE:—(A) Maintenance experience referred to in this Section shall mean experience of practical maintenance or inspection work including routine servicing, minor repairs and minor replacements on aircraft holding certificates of airworthiness which are being regularly operated, or such experience on private or service aircraft to the satisfaction of the Director General.

(B) The repair and overhaul experience referred to in this Section shall mean experience of practical work on the overhaul and repair of aircraft, engines, accessories and equipment in connection with the issue or renewal of certificates of airworthiness for an aircraft, or such experience on private or service aircraft as may be approved by the Director General."
